("Careers guidance" is understood in this document to be the full range of activity delivered under the eight Gatsby Benchmarks).

2.2. The governing body will ensure that the independent careers guidance provided:

- is by a sufficiently qualified individual. They should have a qualification at Level 6/7 in career guidance and development and ideally on the UK Register of Career Development Professionals, accessible through the CDI website;

Therefore, Honeywood will ensure that there are opportunities for a range of education and training providers to access all learners in Cohort 8 to Cohort 11 for the purpose of informing them about approved technical education qualifications or apprenticeships, as follows:

All learners in Cohorts 8-11 are entitled:

- to find out about technical education qualifications and apprenticeships opportunities, as part of a careers programme which provides information on the full range of education and training options available at each transition point.
- to hear from a range of local providers about the opportunities they offer, including technical education and apprenticeships through options events, assemblies and group discussions and taster events; Two encounters for learners during the 'first key phase' (Cohort 8 or 9) and two encounters for learners during the 'second key phase' (Cohort 10 or 11) that are mandatory for all learner to attend.
- to understand how to make applications for the full range of academic and technical courses.

A provider wishing to request access should contact:

Honeywood School: Mr Matthew Ramsay, CEIAG Officer
Telephone: 01376 561231 email: mramsay@honeywoodschool.com

Opportunities for access

A number of events, integrated into the school careers programme, will offer providers an opportunity to come into school to speak to learners and/or their parents/carers. See school careers programme on school website.

Providers will be expected to meet the school's safeguarding requirements, which can be found in the Child Protection & Safeguarding Policy on the school website.

Premises and Facilities

When facilitating career opportunities, the school will make the main hall, classrooms or private meeting rooms available for discussions between the provider and students, as appropriate to the activity. The school will also make available AV and other specialist equipment to support provider presentations. This will all be discussed and agreed in advance of the visit with the Careers Leader or a member of their team.

2.4. The school will ensure that the careers advice provided:

- is presented impartially;
- is given in the best interest of the individual learner receiving the guidance, taking into account their personal aspirations and needs;
- consists of a wide range of information on the availability of further education and training options, including apprenticeships and vocational pathways.

2.5. The school will ensure that all registered learners are provided with independent careers advice and guidance opportunities from Cohort 7 to Cohort 11. ("Careers guidance" is understood in this document to be the full range of activity delivered under the eight Gatsby Benchmarks).

2.6. The school's careers strategy is shaped by the needs of individual learners, and, therefore, developing a strong dialogue with learners is at the heart of the policy.

2.7. The School will use the Gatsby Benchmarks to develop and continually improve on its careers provision and the COMPASS (COMPASS+) tool will be used to identify and report on areas of success and to inform areas for development of the careers programme.

Gatsby Benchmarks:

(1) A Stable Careers Programme

Every school and college should have an embedded programme of career education and guidance that is known and understood by learners, parents, teachers, governors and employers.

(2) Learning from career and labour market information

Every learner, and their parents/carers, should have access to good quality information about future study options and labour market opportunities.

(3) Addressing the needs of each learner

Opportunities for advice and support need to be tailored to the needs of each learner. A school's careers programme should embed equality and diversity considerations throughout.

(4) Linking curriculum learning to careers

All teachers should link curriculum learning with careers. STEM subject teachers should highlight the relevance of STEM subjects for a wide range of future career paths.

(5) Encounters with employers and employees

Every learner should have multiple opportunities to learn from employers about work, employment and the skills that are valued in the workplace.

(6) Experience of workplaces

Every learner should have first-hand experiences of the workplace through work visits, work shadowing and/or work experience.

(7) Encounters with Further and Higher Education

All learners should understand the full range of learning opportunities that are available to them. This includes both academic and vocational routes and learning in schools, colleges, universities and in the workplace.

(8) Personal guidance

Every learner should have opportunities for guidance interviews with a careers adviser, who could be internal (a member of school staff) or external, provided they are trained to an appropriate level.

2.8. The school will make it clear to learners that they will be required to continue studying GCSE English and maths post-16 if they do not achieve a grade 4 or above at GCSE in these subjects.

2.9. The school will make it clear to learners that although they must remain in education or training beyond the age of 16, they are not required to stay in school. As such the school will provide opportunities for learners to learn about their options so that they may make informed choices with regard to their post-16 destinations.

2.10. The school will also ensure that learners understand the wide variety of opportunities available in the job market, including the fact that many careers require a good knowledge of the science, technology, engineering and maths (STEM) subjects.

STEM Lead for Honeywood School = Mr J Williams, Assistant Headteacher

2.11. The school will ensure that the opportunities created by studying STEM subjects are particularly emphasised for female learners, who are statistically much more likely to limit their careers by dropping STEM subjects at an early age.

2.12. The school will ensure that both high attaining learners and those with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) are supported to make an informed choice about whether to aim for university or an equally high calibre apprenticeship.

2.13. Although we no longer fall within their identified parameters, the school will work with Uni Connect (MAKE HAPPEN). The programme is dedicated to inspire young people, raise their aspirations and promote interest in HE as a route to achieving their ambitions.

2.14. Learners will be made aware of extra-curricular opportunities, such as the National Citizenship Service, that will help them achieve their career aspirations.

All teachers should link curriculum learning to careers from Cohort 7-11 and by the age of 14, every learner should have had the opportunity to learn how the different STEM subjects help people to gain entry to, and be more effective workers within, a wide range of careers. To assist this, all staff (teaching & support) receive regular CPD input from the CEIAG Officer and all staff have access to a dedicated 'Careers in the Curriculum' portal, which contains a plethora of resources and links to statutory guidance. Faculties also update and maintain departmental displays as a visual link to careers. In addition there are specific books linking curriculum to career path in the Careers Section in the school library.

6. TARGETED SUPPORT

- The school will work closely with the LA to identify learners who are in need of targeted support, or who are at risk of not participating in post-16 education/training.

- In collaboration with the LA, the school will establish ways of referring identified learners for intensive support from a range of education and training support services available locally.
- The school will ensure that learners are aware of the 16-19 Bursary Fund, which has been devised to support those individuals facing financial hardship. Learners will be advised of how to access this funding and who they should speak to in order to find out more information.
- The school will work closely with the LA and local post-16 education and training providers to support post-16 participation costs, such as care leavers or those entitled to free school meals (FSM).
